

Thank You Card Party for Local Community Workers

Every day, firefighters and police officers serve our community in many ways. For them, going to work can mean putting their lives on the line. They deserve our thanks.

Gather your group and write letters of appreciation, explaining how the firefighters and police officers make a difference in our community and how what they do is appreciated.

"Kind words can be short and easy to speak but their echoes are truly endless." – Mother Teresa

Location:

This community outreach can be done anywhere the small group wishes to meet.

Supplies:

1. Thank you cards
2. Pens
3. Sugar treats to fuel creativity (optional)

Helpful Suggestions:

- Have someone in your group research ahead of time, the names of the people you wish to thank.
- Don't just have one thank you party. Keep the kind words flowing! There are many other people who serve our community every day. Spend some time brainstorming other groups of people who would appreciate thanks (e.g. politicians, school principals, church leaders, bus drivers, ambulance drivers, emergency room nurses, crossing guards, security guards, garbage collectors, etc.) and arrange a time for another thank you card party!
